

MHM Resources Employees Receive CFC Designation

MHM Resources, Inc. in Leawood, KS Congratulates five more on CFC (Certified in Flexible Compensation) Designation

The Employers Council on Flexible Compensation has awarded the highest professional certification available for practitioners in flexible compensation to five additional individuals of MHM Resources, Inc. This is in addition to sixteen employees of MHM Resources who received this designation last year.

David Bruning, Letha Jones, Charlene Osborn, Jan Present, and Cheryl Zahner passed their recent examination to receive the Certified in Flexible Compensation (CFC) designation.

Lisa Gorsuch raised her CFC designation to the instructor level and now has the Certified in Flexible Compensation Instruction (CFCI) designation.

Of approximately 13,000 flexible compensation practitioners across the country, less than 300 carry the CFC designation, and only 200 have the CFCI designation. To achieve this designation, practitioners must take a rigorous exam covering topics such as benefits plan design & administration, law, regulations and ethical standards. The exam includes questions on flexible benefit programs, including flexible spending accounts, child & elder care reimbursement accounts, 401(k) and other defined contribution plans.

Congratulations to each of them on this achievement! ■
